

The little monkey-pod trees that were planted at Aala Park last week under the supervision of the Out-Door Circle might fail to attract attention from the passer-by at present, but one has only to walk on Pensacola street, from Boroiland to Wilder avenue, to see what will result from the efforts of the Circle. Five years ago the late Mrs. Emma Scott Wilder furnished the young trees of the golden shower variety, free, to those who lived on Pensacola street who would look after them. The trees best cared for, tell their own story. Mrs. Wilder was an out-door circle by herself, and for aught I know, may have been the inspiration of the present organization. Tomorrow committees will call at several of the schools and talk to the children of the beauty that will result from their watchfulness over the trees that have been, and will be planted around the city parks, how they may be factors in the upbuilding of a real Honolulu beautiful.

SOCIAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

Central Union church was the scene of a pretty wedding this morning when Miss Clara Bingham Sutherland and Arthur W. Arledge were united in marriage. The church was simply, but prettily decorated with green palms and white calla lilies. The bride, gowned in a handsome chiffon broadcloth suit of wisteria shade, her hat matching beautifully, entered the church from the left of the pulpit, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Arthur Hubert Jones. Almost at the same moment the groom entered from the right with the Reverend A. A. Ebersole, who performed the ceremony. The wedding bouquet was of violets, orange blossoms and American beauty roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors, where society was represented by Honolulu's oldest families. Later an auto carried the bride and groom to the steamer where the couple were met by their many friends who had prepared to give them a genuine Hawaiian aloha, covering them with leis until they were hardly discernable. The band played the wedding march as a fitting farewell, and the good ship Sierra that has carried away so many brides seemed more inviting than ever. Hundreds of ribbon streamers floated from the deck as she steamed away from the dock.

Mr. and Mrs. Arledge will spend their honeymoon traveling in the United States and Canada. They will visit the groom's people in Mississippi and then go to Minneapolis, Minnesota, where a large reception will be held at the home of her parents. The young people will return to Honolulu by way of the Canadian Pacific route. Upon returning to the islands they will occupy the Ramsay bungalow at Kaimuki.

Mrs. Arledge is a niece of Mrs. Lydia Bingham Coan, Mrs. J. B. Atherton and Mr. Frank Cooke. She has lived in Honolulu for the past year and her circle of friends has been enlarged every day.

Mr. Arledge, who has been in Honolulu less than two years is the superintendent of the Lighthouse Service.

Dr. Trotter and family have leased the Crane residence on Kewalo street. Dr. Trotter succeeds Dr. Ramus in the U. S. Marine Hospital service.

Mrs. Thomas Reece, wife of Colonel Reece of the engineer corps, was the complimented guest at a bridge tea yesterday, given by Mrs. William E. Wooten, at her home at Waikiki. The house was prettily decorated with white and yellow daisies and yellow crapepals. A number of ladies were asked to tea during the latter part of the afternoon. Mrs. Wooten's bridge guests included Mrs. Thomas Reece, Mrs. Walter Cowles, Mrs. W. C. Neville, Mrs. E. J. Timberlake, Mrs. McDougal, Mrs. Gesson, Mrs. Hanum, Mrs. Francis Blakely McStocker, Mrs. Francis D. Smith, Mrs. Roy Francis Smith, Miss Coleman, Miss Betty Case, Mrs. Hobdy, Mrs. Shepard, Miss Zeigler, Mrs. Kingsbury, Mrs. Gee, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Macfarlane entertained Mr. and Mrs. William Burrows and Mrs. Jane Libby at a picnic on Saturday at Pearl City. After enjoying a picnic lunch the party took a launch ride to the drydocks and around the different locks. Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane's guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Burrows, Mrs. Jane Libby, Mr. and Mrs. Clow, Miss Brown, Miss Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Klamp, Mr. and Mrs. Crupp, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond, Miss Makee, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Focke, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shingle, Mrs. Brune, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Mrs. Lanz and Mrs. Dowsett.

The Service Bridge Club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. E. R. Gay-

DRAPED GOWN WITH SILVER AND GUN METAL SEQUINS.

This garment, which was designed by one of the leading Parisian dress-makers, is in a checkerboard pattern that is novel and striking, for the idea is carried out with silver and gun metal sequins. Black net is draped over the sequins on the blouse and over the skirt. It is draped up with blue roses.

THE THEATERS

Bijou Acts Full of Ginger.

The Bijou had five vaudeville acts on last night and each and every one of them was so teeming with wit and humor that it would be hard to say which act was the best.

The new act Varin and Varin did all that was expected of them—kept the audience laughing from the minute the curtain rose on their act. Their little skit entitled "Football" went with a vim and their football talk was rich and furnished the nucleus for rapid fire repartee such as is seldom heard here. They concluded their act with a xylophone selection in which Miss Varin sustained her reputation as one of America's foremost xylophonists.

Harry Bowen, whose partner has been temporarily restrained from appearing before the footlights, had the audience with him all through his act, which was replete with witticisms. He is a very clever boy and adds to his popularity by singing songs of his own composition.

Curtis and Le Van, in their Bowery act, showed up to advantage and made a very favorable impression with last night's audience. Their act is a typically Bowery tough one and calls for some good acting.

Little Elsie Johnson did a single singing turn in her same winning way while Robert Athon, in blackface, appeared in one of his best acts. As a monologist he was a surprise and passed off many original jokes. A more versatile team than Athon and Johnson would be hard to find.

Last night's performance received many favorable comments and as long as the management puts on acts like last night they'll have no trouble in filling the Bijou nightly.

Historical Picture Still Drawing.

The "Siege of Calais" is still drawing well at the Savoy and will continue to be shown for a few nights longer. It's a film that is intensely interesting all the way through. The popular prices of 10 cents, 15 cents and 25 cents brings this picture within reach of all.

CHEESE IS NOT HARD TO DIGEST

There has been a widespread belief that cheese is not easily digested and that it is the cause of physiological disturbances. Neither of these popular beliefs is substantiated by the results of an extended series of digestion experiments undertaken and just completed by the department of agriculture. Indeed, cheese was found to be as easy of digestion as a comparable amount of meat. Supplementing the experiments by the department as to the nutritive value of cheese, many tests have been made in preparing cheese for the table, the purpose being to suggest dishes and combinations of such a character that cheese might replace other nitrogenous material and fats when desirable. A bulletin just issued by the department discusses cheese making, enumerates the more common kinds of cheese used in American homes, gives a few sample bills of fare in which cheese is substituted for meat, tells how to produce home-made cheeses, and gives forty-one recipes for cheese dishes and sauces, which are likely to prove very attractive to American housewives. Cheese naturally suggests itself as a substitute for meat, since it resembles meat in food value and is a savory food. Experiment and experience have shown that it can be thus used, and that the daily fare may meet all demands as regards the nourishment it supplies and at the same time be economical. This matter is taken up in the bulletin, and suggestions are made which should help the housewife in planning her meals.

The office of the Wireless is open on week days from 7 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and on Sundays from 8 to 10 a. m. while messages for ships at sea may be sent up to eleven every night.

A SPRING HAT WITH FRINGED SILK TRIMMING.
All in tones of red is this charming hat which accompanied a white bed-cord suit to Palm Beach last week. The shape, of cream Milan, is almost entirely covered by the trimming. Under the brim is a facing of red taffeta—not a glaring scarlet shade, but a soft, pretty new dahlia red which is most becoming to the complexion. Tiny pleatings of this red taffeta mingled with pleating of fancy red straw braid form a huge cabochon at one side of the crown, and above this rises a cluster of nondescript flowers,
